ARROW SPARROW and the Flight Academy

by Anne Thompson

This is the story of a young sparrow, who is trying his hardest to get through pre-school so that he can attend Flight Academy where he will learn flying skills.

However, he appears to be disaster prone and incapable of doing well at school. He gets into all kinds of trouble and situations, much to the exasperation of his parents and schoolteacher.

His first hurdle is to find a way of getting to school and back on his own, something he can never quite manage. His dad comes up with an ingenious solution to help him which works, to a degree!! However Arrow continues to get into trouble. Finally, during one serious mishap, Arrow discovers the reason for his problems.
